CALIFORNIA GETS THEM

That California has become the lodestone for all the destitute and unemployed people in America, is the theory that led a national magazine to send one of its associate editors, Walter Davenport, to he Pacific coast to investigate this situation and to make a report on it.

Mr. Davenport estimates that between 25 and 40 per cent of the nation's transient unemployed have already entered California and that the rest of the army are arriving at a rate of 4000 a month. The rate is more likely to increase than decrease. All of them have to be supported by relief funds and agencies. The cost of feeding them cannot possibly be much less than $15 a month per person.

Twelve million dollars a month is being spent in California on relief, says Mr. Davenport. The transients are the biggest problem, for next fall the federal government's aid to unemployed will be work relief, leaving the care of unemployables to the states. And the large majority of these migrants are unemployable

Serra Crespi Hall Center of Activity

Serra Crespi Hall at the Carmel Mission is the work shop and rehearsal place for the Mission Play to be staged on the mission grounds at the last of this month.

Remo Scardigli and Philip Nesbitt are using the place as a studio for work on the much discussed decorations which are to go up aroun dthe 15th. The size of the main decoration to be placed at the foot of the hill on Ocean avenue required a large studio.

Nearly every evening rehearsals are being held by Director Frederic Burt at Crespi Hall. Sunset school is still being used as a meeting place of dancers under the direction of June Delight and Ruth Austin, who has taken over the training of the Indian dances for which Zaerah Lee Koepp set the routine.

The mission grounds are buzzing with activity. The amphitheater is being built at an angle to have the church belfry steps as part of the background. The mouth of the Carmel river and a great sweep of ocean can be seen between the mission and Serra Crespi hall from the grandstand.

BYINGTON FORD IS NEW CARMEL LEGION CHIEF

Inducted into office with impressive ceremonies Tuesday night, August 6, the new Carmel American Legion post officers took up their duties for the coming year. A capacity attendance of veterans and their wives were on hand to honor the new group.

Byington Ford is the new commander, succeeding James Regan. Al Clark, commander of the 13th district, was in charge of installation, aided by Commander Felix, and Vice Commander Brewer, of the Salinas legion.

Other officers were installed as follows:

M. J. Peterson, first vice-commander; Corum Jackson, second vice-commander; Lee Gottfried, adjutant; G. H. Burnett, finance officer; O. W. Bardarson, historian; Melvin Dorsett, chaplain; Fred MacIndoe, sergeant-at-arms.

Executive committee consists of Gail Chandler, P. H. Hudgins, Col. C. G. Lawrence, E. H. Ewig, and Don Hale.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Committees were appointed by Commander Ford to care for the various activities of the post.

On entertainment, Col. Lawrence will be in charge, assisted by Corum Jackson, Pat Hudgins, James Thoburn, Captain De Witt Blamer, Jack Schroeder, Ernest Upshaw, Col. John Cocke, James Regan, Commander M. J. Peterson, Conrad Imelman and Lee Gottfried.

Civic relations will be cared for by Mayor James H. Thoburn. On the Youth committee are Jack Schroeder, Peterson and Herb Brownell. Americanization is in charge of James Regan. Subversion commission will be headed by Mac Indoe. Membership committee is in charge of Peterson and Major William Herbert Landers; finance head is Burnett; house committee is led by Gottfried and Guy Koepp.

Legal questions will be cared for by Jackson and Argyll Campbell. Publicity will be done by Chandler; service by Conrad Imelmann; and visiting by Rev. Melvin Dorsett.

Installation took place in the club rooms at Dolores and Eighth street and was followed by a buffet supper.

County's Bonded Debt Five Million

The people of Monterey county owed a bonded debt for state, county, school and district purposes of $94.86 for each man, woman and child in the county, or a total of $5,738,237 as of June 30, 1934, according to a study of the state and local bonded debt of California counties, recently completed by California Taxpayers' Association, at Los Angeles. Of the total per capita debt, $43.42 was for county and district bonds.

Taxpayers of 12 California counties owed a bonded debt per capita for state and local government purposes of over $100. These counties were San Francisco, with a per capita debt of $274.94; Los Angeles, $170.63; San Diego, $164.41; Sacramento, $144.65; Riverside, $131.97; Colusa, $127.63; Orange, $114.79; Fresno, $110.18; Santa Barbara, $109.68, San Joaquin, $107.61, Contra Costa, $105.14 and Alameda, $102.77.

Townsend Club Elects Otficers

Frank Krouch was elected president, A. E. Pfremmer vice president, and Mrs. Jessie Relfe secretary-treasurer at the weekly meeting of the Carmel Townsend Club at Sunset school Monday night. Dr. G. F. Fink, district organizer, spoke on the progress of the movement, reporting among other things that there are now more than 4000 clubs in the United States, with a membership of more than 10,000,000, and that the movement is sweeping over the land like a tidal wave; hailed everywhere as the providential means to lift the country out of the depression and restore prosperity.

More than 70 people attended the meeting and following the business session refreshments were served, after which a five-piece orchestra provided music for an hour of dancing.

JO MORA AUTHORITY FOR SERRA ARTISTS

Jo Mora, of Carmel, authority on Western lore, who has done as much as any other person to make Californians conscious of their historic heritage, is being consulted by the young artists who will design and execute the banners and shields which will take the place of "plebian rodeo bunting" used in decorating Carmel during the Serra Festival and Pageant last year.

Philip Nesbitt, and Moira Wallace are designing and executing the large center street decorations to be placed on Ocean avenue, Dolores, San Carlos and Lincoln streets. Remo Scardigli is designing shields to decorate stores and is in charge of construction and installation.

Decorative shields and posters will have historic motives, drawing on the military and mission as well as the gay and festive side of life in the early days on the Monterey penisula.

No person is better suited than Jo Mora to pass on the authenticity of these subjects because for 20 years he has been a student of California history, customs and costumes.

RESTORATION OF MISSION COMMENCED LAST WEEK

Restoration was begun last week on the left wing of the Carmel Mission, the part which includes the cell where Fra. Junipero Serra died, his library and another cell.

Serra's cell will be restored according to the description in Palou's life of Serra and will be kept as a memorial.

Adobe bricks which Harry Downie and assistants have made from the curmbled adobe walls about the mission, are being used in construction and are being plastered together by a mud mortar to make the thick walls.

The entire roof of the left wing will be raised on a level with that of the mission to give the original appearance of a connected structure.

Rev. and Mrs. T. Harold Grimshaw have returned to their home in Stockton, after spending several days visiting in Carmel. Mr. Grimshaw will be remembered as the former pastor of Carmel Community church.

SISTERS VISIT CARMELITES

Miss Bertha Guichard, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Odessa Gilson, and Mrs. Gilson's son, Jimmy, motored to Carmel last week from their home in Santa Cruz, and are spending a few days visiting their sisters, Mrs. James McGrury, Miss Stella Guichard, and Mrs. Althee McGarraugh.

DREISER IN CARMEL

Theodore Dreiser, noted writer and outspoken economist, was in Carmel at the Pine Inn during the past few days. He sought seclusion and few knew that he was in town. James Hopper, pioneer Carmel writer and a famous war correspondent, and Dreiser got together for a lively chat, their friendship going back many years.

WRISTPIN NOISES

If the mechanic diagnoses the noise in the enginer as a knock due to wristpin wear, the intensity of the noise will determine what should be done about it, states L. G. Evans, director of roadside service of the National Automobile Club. If the knock is slight it can be ignored. A heavy knock indicates a degree of wear that should be corrected.

—undernourished, devitalized, demoralized, and stupid with disease.

They come from every state in the Union, including Florida. They come singly, in family lots and in what looks like marching club and lodge formations. Davenport saw 22 young fellows from the same village in Arkansas arrive in a body. He saw a Kansas family of 17, including 13 children. California's magnificent roads are a-crawl with them. The roadsides have the look of refugee camps. They straggle across the Yuma bridge looking like war-zone refugees. Nobody has told them that to be a regular on California's relief lists one must have been a resident of the state for a year. Nobody has told them that the California state treasury is nearly as empty as that of Arkansas or Alabama.

There is nothing for California to do but feed them, house as many as possible in transient camps and exhort them to go go home. They merely eat, sleep, listen, and come back for more. And in the meantime their numbers grow.

After all, why should they leave? It is warm in the southern valleys. If California isn't as lavish with her money as they have been led to believe, the land is producing fruits and vegetables magically, and they can afford to wait. The government won't let them starve, they say. So they aren't leaving.

Southern California is the most popular section with them, and Yuma, Needles and Stateline are the busiest ports of entry. They arrive with all their worldly possessions lashed to the car's sides. Some bring their dogs and cats. The whole scene is garbled, confused, a straggling jungle, disheveled, a miserable sideshow. Suppose California could eject them? Where could they go? Throw them across the state line into the desert? Many would die within a week in the desert.

CARMEL YOUTHS IN JUVENILE COURT

Judge H. G. Jorgensen, sitting in juvenile court at Salinas Friday, took under advisement the cases of four Carmel youths accused of destroying property some weeks ago. The acts included daubing paint on the Carmel Woods statue of Father Serra, driving machines over fairways and greens at the Penisula Country Club, and smashing traffic signs.

Sixty days will be given them to reimburse owners for the damages. If at the end of the period the reimbursement has not been made, stern action will be taken by the court.

CARMELITE JAILED AFTER FAMILY ROW

Uprising of the natives took place Friday night in Carmel's Mexican plateau near the Peninsula Community hospital. As a result, Pete Ramirez is in the county jail for 30 days.

Carmel police were called by neighbors when a racket and screaming was heard coming from the Ramirez house. Officers had trouble in convincing Ramirez that he should be more gentle at home, finally using power to subdue him and cart him off to Monteery lock-up over night.

Saturday morning City Judge George Wood of Carmel sentenced him to a month's confinement after he pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace.

INVENTORY MANUSCRIPT AID TO MISSION RESTORATION

Restoration of the Carmel Mission as it was when Serra knew it will be easier work from this time on. Last week Harry Downie obtained an inventory made made by Jose Real, pastor of the church 89 years ago which gives every detail of the church and surrounding buildings of the Mission in 1846.

The inventory, which is a copy in Spanish of the original one in the chancelry office, gives measurements, materials, number and shape of windows, statues, altar adornments, vestments, silver in the church, sacred vessels, a vivid word picture of the church, the principal sala and the padre's quarters at the time.

This document cuts down the amount of research work necessary in restoration and assures accuracy of details. It will be a valuable guide to be used when the roof and ceiling are rebuilt. Funds for this work will be added to by receipts from the Carmel Mission Play to be produced August 28 to September 1 inclusive with a Sunday matinee September 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hitchcock, Jr., entertained a number of out-of-town friends during the past week. Mrs. E. C. Ferguson, father and son of Oakland, and Mrs. Chester Robinson of Modesto called on Wednesday for a short visit; Mrs. James Watson and children of Berkeley arrived the same day and visited here until Monday, and on Sunday Mrs. M. E. Arnall, daughter and grandchildren of Oakland, came and are present guests of the Hitchcocks.

RUTH AUSTIN WILL DIRECT

Zahrah Lee Koepp has announced that Ruth Austin will take over the training of Indian dancers for which she has set the routine. The dances will be a part of the Mission Play to be staged at month. Rehearsals are on Tues- Carmel Mission at the last of this day, Thursday and Saturday at 7:30.

TWINS BORN TO CARMELITES

Twins arrived on August 5 at the Monterey Peninsula Community hospital. The happy parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dominador Concepcion of Carmel. Little Miss Adoreen Fay tipped the scales at four pounds and nine ounces, five more ounces than her brother, Dominador David. Mr. Concepcion is employed by Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Coolidge at their home in Hatton Fields.

THERE IS A LIMIT

Even in those states which have abolished the fixed maximum speed limit, highway patrolmen are instructed to keep a wary eye on drivers inclined to travel faster than 45 miles an hour, states the Public Safety Department of the National Automobile Club. The theory behind this instruction is that speeds beyond this are safe only when they involve a combination of a good road, freedom from congestion, a good car and, particularly, a skilled driver.

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, August 18, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "I will set my tabernacle among you: and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people" (Lev. 26: 11, 12). Other Bible citations will include: "The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pain of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow. Then called I upon the name of the Lord; O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul . . . The Lord preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me . . . For tho hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling" (Ps. 116: 3, 4, 6, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If it is true that man lives, this fact can ever change in Science to the opposite belief that man dies. Life is the law of Soul, even the law of the spirit of Truth, and Soul is never without its representative. Man's individual being can no more die nor disappear in unconsciousness than can Soul, for both are immortal" (p. 427).
